

Spite Work To Plough Up Street And Then Leave It

That Was How Alderman Relyea Characterized Action of City in South Wall Street—Residents There Up in Arms—Mayor Carey Said He Did Not Call Off Men Working on That Street—Other Matters Before Council.

"It looks rather small for anyone for a little spite to go over and plough up South Wall street and then leave it," remarked Alderman Relyea of the Eleventh Ward when he asked the Common Council to extend the privilege of the floor to several residents of that street who wanted to be heard. After hearing the protesting residents of the street Alderman Haines, who presided at the meeting in the absence of President C. J. Heiseleman, who is a delegate to the Republican state convention at Buffalo, appointed a committee of three to meet with the emergency work relief bureau to see if the matter could not be straightened out. The committee appointed is headed by Alderman Relyea with Alderman Schwenk and Doehy as the other two members.

Adolph Haberstumpf, a resident of the street, said that something should be done as the residents of the street had suffered long enough. Augustus F. Kohler, another resident, said that Mayor Carey had stated at a meeting of Kiwanis Club that the street would be scraped and scraped is right, said the speaker, for the other day men came over with a plow and ploughed up the street and then left it.

Working Another Street
Mayor Carey, who was present at the meeting, said that when residents of South Wall street had objected to the type of street to be built that the emergency work relief, who had charge of the work, had left that street and decided to improve Roosevelt avenue instead. The mayor said the work relief had set it up as a project for the laying of a 20-foot strip of roadway.

Mayor Carey said that he was not a member of the emergency work relief committee.

"I would like to ask you a question, mayor," said Alderman Relyea, "what actually called the men of South Wall street?"

"The chairman of the work relief," replied Mayor Carey.

"Then I was misinformed," said Alderman Relyea, "for I had been told it was you yourself who stopped work on the street."

Mr. Phelan Objects.
James A. Phelan, addressing Mayor Carey, said that the mayor would see to it that the people of South Wall street got a square deal. They were not getting one and it was up to the mayor to see that they did.

"I am not a member of the work relief," replied the mayor.

"Well, you are the mayor and you have the appointive power," retorted Mr. Phelan. He added, "If I was mayor I would be mayor."

Money Set Aside For Street.
Alderman Relyea said that the council had specifically set aside and appropriated the sum of $55,000 for the improvement of the Boulevard, Washington avenue, Fair street and South Wall street, and that the money could not be diverted to another street.

Mr. Phelan said that $6,000 had been set aside for South Wall street, but Alderman Relyea said his resolution was that no specific sum had been set aside for any of these four particular streets, but that the amount had been lumped.

Finally the discussion was brought to a close when Alderman Schwenk moved that the president of the council appoint a committee of three to meet with the work relief committee and thrash the matter out.

Motions and Resolutions.
Alderman Sullivan—That a caution sign be placed on Delaware avenue at Albany and Yeomans street; that the portion of Catherine street lying in the Fifth ward be topdressed and rolled; that Delaware avenue from Albany street to North street be topdressed and rolled.

Mayor Carey Wants Taxes Collected in Two Installments

Suggested Common Council Adopt Resolution Asking Supervisors to Take Action to Permit It—Mayor's Request Tabled—Other Matters Before Aldermen.

Mayor Eugene B. Carey sent in a communication to the Common Council Tuesday evening in regard to having the payment of city taxes divided into two installments and enclosed a proposed resolution asking the Board of Supervisors to enact legislation permitting the city to pay the county its quota of taxes in two installments. After some discussion the mayor's request and the resolution were referred to the laws and rules committee and the finance committee.

Mayor Carey's communication read as follows:

Office of the Mayor
City of Kingston, New York
Eugene B. Carey, Mayor.
October 4, 1932.

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y.

Gentlemen:
Attached hereto is a resolution, which I request that you favorably act on. It was one of my ideas to have the payment of taxes divided into two parts. This can not be done unless the County Board of Supervisors will permit the city to pay its quota of county charges in two parts, due to the fact that about 26% of the city budget is made up of county charges and about 14% is for our debt service.

Respectfully submitted,
EUGENE B. CAREY,
Mayor.

The Resolution
The resolution read as follows:

Whereas, it is the intention, if at all possible, of the City Administration to divide the payment of taxes into two parts and whereas

About 26 per cent of the amount raised by taxation in the City of Kingston is for county charges and 14 per cent is for our debt service, making a total equal to about one half of what is raised, and whereas

Due to such conditions it is impossible for the City Administration to carry out its plans for the relief of our tax payers, unless the County of Ulster will enact legislation permitting the City to pay the County its quota in two installments.

Therefore,
The Common Council of the City of Kingston respectfully petitions the Board of Supervisors that, for the year 1933 and ensuing years the City's quota of the County budget be payable in two installments, namely March 15th, and May 15th of each year.

Alderman Schwenk's Resolution
In regard to the collection of taxes in two installments Alderman Schwenk of the Third ward offered the following resolution, which was also referred to the two committees.

WHEREAS on February 2nd, 1932, I introduced a resolution that the city charter be amended to permit the payment of taxes in installments, and that the Laws and Rules Committee be authorized and directed to make a study of this matter and report.

WHEREAS the Laws and Rules Committee during February held a meeting, at which the mayor, city treasurer and corporation counsel were present. These three officials expressed themselves in favor of the proposed amendments and promised to study the changes in the budget estimates and charter provisions and report back to the Laws and Rules Committee.

WHEREAS on March 1st, 1932, the Laws and Rules Committee made their report to the Common Council favoring that taxes in 1933 and thereafter be paid in installments.

WHEREAS the committee favored the plan as in a number of cities to put the entire amount of the tax levy on one bill to economize in printing and mailing two sets of tax bills, the amount of each payment being clearly stated.

WHEREAS the entire method had been discussed, also as to the method to finance the city during the first six months of 1933 in the event that the county decides adversely as to accepting installments in payments.

moved from Greenhill avenue, between Wall and Washington avenue and street repaired.

Alderman McGraw—that police man be stationed at Broadway and O'Reilly street from 11 to 1 and from 2 to 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Want Law Adopted Compelling People To Dress Properly

Mrs. C. N. Reed of Good Government Committee of Federated Women's Clubs Said It Was a Disgrace This Summer How Some People Appeared on Streets—Mrs. Reed Spoke on Water Department—Other Matters.

Mrs. Clara Norton Reed of the Good Government committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city appeared before the common council Tuesday evening and urged the adoption of an ordinance similar to one enacted in Middletown which would compel people to dress properly while on the streets. She said that the women were indignant over the way some women appeared on the streets this summer, and that the way they were dressed would not even be allowed on bathing beaches. She said that the Federation desired the aldermen take some action toward adopting an ordinance that the police could enforce.

At the present time, according to the speaker, there is no ordinance covering that particular point. Other cities have adopted ordinances, especially Middletown.

Alderman Ray Haines, who presided at the meeting in the absence of President Heiseleman, said that the proper action for the women to take would be to have some aldermen introduce a resolution which would be referred to the laws and rules committee for action.

Mrs. Bregman Objects.
The privilege of the floor was also extended to Mrs. Bregman, who said she would like to talk again on water rates. She wanted to know how long the present rates were to be maintained. She said the water rates were raised by the water department without consulting anyone about it. She also objected to the placing of water rates that had not been paid on city tax bills.

Alderman Haines explained that that was done under a provision of the city charter.

Mrs. Bregman said that when anything was gotten into the city charter it was hard to get it out again.

In regard to water rates she was advised to take the matter up with the water department.

Mama Appeared for Children.
Former Alderman Ralph Mann, extended the privilege of the floor, said he appeared in behalf of the children attending School No. 5 and urged that they be given police protection in crossing streets from 8 to 9 in the morning and from 11:30 to 1 and again from 2:45 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He said that he hoped the aldermen of that ward would introduce a resolution to that effect.

Progress on Dog Law.
Alderman Zucca, who some time ago introduced an ordinance requiring dogs running loose to be muzzled, asked the laws and rules committee what action had been taken on it. Alderman Derrenbacher, chairman of the committee, said he would report progress on the ordinance.

Mr. Murphy Speaks.
Daniel J. Murphy of Spring street, given the privilege of the floor, said he was a grandfather and his grandchild attending School No. 3 had to pass at least four houses of ill fame on Chambers street on her way to and from school, and that some action should be taken toward remedying conditions.

Mr. Murphy said it was true that he had been a bootlegger and had sold more booze than there were negroes in Rondout, but that there were some things he would not stand for.

He was advised to take the matter up with the police department.

Bus Petitions
The council then returned to its regular order of business and listened to a petition from the Short Line Bus for permission to operate between Kingston and Walden. It was referred to the bus committee.

Similar action was taken on the petition of James Acker of East Kingston to operate a bus line from Daisy in the town of Saugerties to the Crown street and Thomas street bus terminals.

Claims Rejected
The auditing committee reported in favor of rejecting the claims of David Petraski for $35; Leah Gelsler for $1,000, and Frank Hafer for $25. The report was unanimously adopted.

A claim from A. H. Gundersen & Son of Broadway, for damages to one of their trucks hitting a stump of a tree on Kierstedt avenue, was referred to the auditing committee and corporation counsel. The claim was for $38.15.

To Repair Voting Machines
Alderman Zucca of the election committee reported that the voting machines needed to be overhauled and the custodians had offered to do the work for $5 machine. The committee was authorized to have the work done.

National Bank Call.
Washington, Oct. 5 (AP).—The comptroller of the currency issued a call today for the condition of all National banks at the close of business Friday, September 29.

Treasury Receipts.
Washington, Oct. 5 (AP).—Treasury receipts for October 3 were $11,364,792.15; expenditures $26,345,676.97; balance $846,369,247.86. Customs duties for three days of October were $2,869,271.81.

Reported Auto Stolen

Col. Donovan Raps Governor Roosevelt
For Conducting an Active Campaign For The Presidential Nomination Since His First Term at Albany.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP).—Colonel William J. Donovan, Republican gubernatorial nominee, has opened his campaign with "credo of government" and a broadside at Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, for "conducting an active campaign for the nomination he now holds" since the governor began his first term at Albany.

"Wild Bill's" opening fire in the state campaign came last night in his speech of acceptance made to an audience that packed the huge Broadway Auditorium to its eaves.

His "credo of government," in which he said "government must be of such a character as to be respected," served as a prelude to his observations on prohibition.

Col. Donovan Raps Governor Roosevelt

For Conducting an Active Campaign For The Presidential Nomination Since His First Term at Albany.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP).—Colonel William J. Donovan, Republican gubernatorial nominee, has opened his campaign with "credo of government" and a broadside at Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, for "conducting an active campaign for the nomination he now holds" since the governor began his first term at Albany.

"Wild Bill's" opening fire in the state campaign came last night in his speech of acceptance made to an audience that packed the huge Broadway Auditorium to its eaves.

His "credo of government," in which he said "government must be of such a character as to be respected," served as a prelude to his observations on prohibition.

"It is," said Donovan, "because of my belief that a strait-jacket regulation in our fundamental law impedes the flexibility of our government and destroys respect for the constitution itself that I have stated that I am for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

"But," said the candidate, "I am of the opinion that President Hoover has met this issue very squarely."

"His proposal affords a basis for all of us, whatever our views, to meet together and attempt to work out a solution which by proper guarantees, will eliminate a condition which in President Hoover's words is resulting in a degeneration in municipal government and an increase in organized crime and violence."

Under the Democratic administration of the state Donovan said, "we have found mounting expenditures, departmental scandals and growing bureaucracy."

"During the past four crucial years we have needed the energy and devotion of a courageous and efficient governor."

"Instead we have had a presidential candidate, a man whose budget proclamations he has no deep interest in economy and who has not paid enough attention to the business of the state to give the public the full benefits of the reforms which have been adopted. It is apparent now that from the first day the governor entered the executive mansion at Albany he has been engaged in an active campaign for the nomination he now holds. In doing this he has imposed luxurious government upon taxpayers who themselves have been forced to abandon luxuries and in certain cases the very essentials of life."

Demand Hofstadter Refuse Endorsement Of Tammany Hall

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP).—W. Kingsland Macy, Republican state chairman, today called upon State Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter, young New York city Republican legislator, to refuse the Tammany endorsement for election to the Supreme court bench.

In a telegram to Hofstadter, who was chairman of the legislative committee investigating New York city's Democratic administration, Macy said "the finest minds of the Republican party feel that you have stultified our party in a way for which you can only partially atone by refusing the designation."

Macy said that he must "demand" such a refusal by Friday night. That is the last day on which declarations can be filed in this state.

The text of Macy's telegram follows:

"With thousands of Republicans who have followed your activities as chairman of the legislative investigating committee I was shocked when I heard that you had been nominated by the Tammany Hall organization for Justice of the Supreme Court in the second division on the same evening when the Republican party of Manhattan and Bronx nominated you for the same position. I had heard rumors several days before that you had said that you had the Tammany endorsement secure and were therefore the persons who should be first considered for the Republican nomination as no other would have such a sure election."

"I felt then that it was anything but a rather disagreeable fantasy. When I read in the newspapers that you had been nominated by Tammany Hall I knew that you had done not only a serious injury to yourself but a great wrong to your party."

Plan an Equitable One
After hearing the plan advanced by Mr. Bump the members from the various clubs were called upon to express their reaction to the plan and all agreed that the plan was not only an equitable one but was one which could be carried out with benefit to all.

All clubs must file applications if they expect to get a distribution of game.

After the matter had been discussed a resolution was adopted appointing a committee from the clubs to act on all applications and act as a clearing house. Individual applications will be turned over to this committee to investigate and act upon in order that there be no duplication by stocking sections by individuals where a club has already stocked.

This committee knowing conditions will be able to determine where it is advisable to stock certain kinds of game and in what quantity and what proportion of the county's quota of a particular kind of game should go.

State Superintendent of Bureau of Game Presents Plan Here for First Time—Praises Work of Local Association.

Gardiner Bump, state superintendent of the bureau of game, and Frank C. Edminister, game research investigator, from the State Conservation Department, spoke before representatives of the Federated Sportsmen's Association of Ulster County Tuesday evening at an informal get-together meeting at McCabe's Restaurant and at that time Mr. Bump presented a new plan for the better distribution of game throughout the state. Charles H. Finch, president of the Federated, presided.

Mr. Bump presented his plan for the first time at the meeting last evening and during the following weeks similar meetings will be held throughout the state in the various counties and the sportsmen of the state will be acquainted with the plan. Mr. Bump selected Ulster county as the first place to present his idea since this county is considered by the Conservation Department as one county in which a representative organization is now in effect.

Ulster county was the first county in the state to form a federated sportsmen's association where ideas of county wide scope might be presented and acted upon and through which distribution of game was handled in an equitable manner, the association acting as a clearing house for applications for distribution of state fish.

Presents New Plan For Distribution Of Game In State

State Superintendent of Bureau of Game Presents Plan Here for First Time—Praises Work of Local Association.

Gardiner Bump, state superintendent of the bureau of game, and Frank C. Edminister, game research investigator, from the State Conservation Department, spoke before representatives of the Federated Sportsmen's Association of Ulster County Tuesday evening at an informal get-together meeting at McCabe's Restaurant and at that time Mr. Bump presented a new plan for the better distribution of game throughout the state. Charles H. Finch, president of the Federated, presided.

Mr. Bump presented his plan for the first time at the meeting last evening and during the following weeks similar meetings will be held throughout the state in the various counties and the sportsmen of the state will be acquainted with the plan. Mr. Bump selected Ulster county as the first place to present his idea since this county is considered by the Conservation Department as one county in which a representative organization is now in effect.

Ulster county was the first county in the state to form a federated sportsmen's association where ideas of county wide scope might be presented and acted upon and through which distribution of game was handled in an equitable manner, the association acting as a clearing house for applications for distribution of state fish.

Tribute to Local Association.
Mr. Bump paid a very glowing tribute to the local association when he stated that he had examined the by-laws of the local federated sportsmen's association and had caused copies to be made for distribution throughout the state to the county meetings in the hope that similar organizations might be formed in all the counties in the state. This action as a clearing house for all applications for fish has met with the hearty approval of the department and the same principal will be applied to the distribution of game.

Mr. Bump stated that in the past the distribution of game had been unsatisfactory to the department in many ways and the plan was now to place in effect a plan similar to that which has been in effect in this county for the distribution of fish. This plan would give a fair and impartial allotment of game throughout the state.

With an association acting in each county as a clearing house for applications for state game he felt that a more equitable distribution could be had. Local sportsmen were more familiar with the needs of any given locality than the department at Albany. With a fair and honest body of sportsmen acting as a clearing house for these applications for game he felt better work could be done. This action on the part of the county associations of course would be subject to the approval of the department.

The state superintendent of game would give a more equal distribution stated that he felt that his plan within the county. Men familiar with the needs of a locality, by meeting with men of other localities in the county, could discuss the needs of different localities and stock sections in need of stocking and prevent a great deal of duplication which results now in some localities getting more than their share while other sections did not get a proper share.

His plan calls for establishing a county quota of game based on quantity of cover for any particular kind of game, quality of cover, the number of hunting licenses sold within the county, the kill of the particular species of game in the county as reported to the department, the intensity of hunting in the area and the number of outside hunters in the county.

The quota for a county having been established this quota could be distributed equally through the various sportsmen's clubs in the county. In Ulster county there are 14 different clubs represented in the Federation.

Mr. Bump said that he felt responsible clubs were best fitted to stock game, knowing the particular need of the locality.

Individual applications for game would be honored only after the clubs' quota had been filled. Then individual applications would be filled in the order in which they came in and only in equal proportions. This would prevent much duplication.

Plan an Equitable One
After hearing the plan advanced by Mr. Bump the members from the various clubs were called upon to express their reaction to the plan and all agreed that the plan was not only an equitable one but was one which could be carried out with benefit to all.

President Hoover Pledges War Debts For Farm Markets

On Board Presidential Special, en route to Washington, Oct. 3 (AP).

President Hoover made a campaign tour today out of his return to Washington from Des Moines, where last night he told a cheering audience that "a great national victory has been achieved" in the "war" against the "economic storm" and said the Democratic program was marked by "reckless disregard of the safety of the nation."

The president, in a series of rear platform appearances through Indiana and Ohio today, resumed the offensive in his campaign for reelection which he assumed last night when he told the nation that the legislation proposed by Democrats in the last session of Congress, if enacted, "will end hope of recovery."

This program, the president said, was approved by the Democratic party when it nominated Speaker Garner for vice-president.

At one point in his speech, when the president was outlining what he called the Democratic "program" proposed in the house during the last session of Congress, as a result of which he said he vetoed several measures, a member of the audience yelled: "Give 'em Hell!"

The president smiling broadly halted his address for fully half a minute.

White House aids said today that scores of congratulatory telegrams were being received by Mr. Hoover.

A crowd which filled the 9,600-seat Des Moines coliseum interrupted Mr. Hoover many times with applause during the hour and a half of his speech in which he said "we have won this battle" against economic forces and "enunciated 12 policies or proposals of aid to agriculture."

Among the president's proposals were:

1. Revision of the farm marketing act "in the interest of the farmer in the light of our three years experience" including repeal of the stabilization provisions.

2. Support of a "sound program" to "promote the reorganization of agriculture so as to divert lands from unprofitable to profitable use, and to avoid the cultivation of lands the chief return of which is the poverty and misery of those who live upon them."

3. Recommendation at the next session of congress of a reorganization of the federal land banks to "give them the resources and liberty of action which do not exist, necessary to enable them definitely and positively to expand in the refinancing of the farm mortgage situation where it is necessary to give men who want to fight for it a chance to hold their homes."

A Hammer Strike Tragedy

Skutumpah, Rumania—Two brothers, 12 and 15, quarreled while their parents were away at a wedding. The older struck his brother with a hammer, killing him. "But what we want," the commissioners explain, "is a polo field and now we're not to buy a coal mine—and in these times!"

More Wages for Beer

Sidney, Australia—Unskilled workers on the basic wage are asking a pay increase sufficient to buy three pints of beer a week. Tucker, Walkkill. In addition Jay Dodd of New Paltz; H. P. Buchanan of Esopus; H. G. Jenkins, Clintonville; John Ostrander, Hurley; and Alfred Redell of Walkkill, were present.

The chairman then presented Bernard Joy, county 4-H club leader, who spoke briefly about the 4-H Club work. He mentioned, among other things, that Sarah Boies of Lake Katrine, won the State Health contest and every effort is being made to raise funds to send her to the National 4-H Club congress in Chicago, to compete for national health honors.

Albert Kurdt, manager of the Farm Bureau was then called on for a few words. He emphasized the importance of developing a stronger program of work by the local committees after relating some of the important activities of the Farm Bureau during the past year. W. J. Clark, assistant manager of the Farm Bureau, gave a very interesting account of the fruit work carried on during the past season. A discussion brought out that 58 fruit growers contributed $15 each to make possible the spray information service conducted by the assistant manager.

Fred DuBois, vice-president of the Farm Bureau, then gave an interesting summary of the State and American Farm Bureau Federations. He pointed out that a survey would be made by the Farm Bureau to secure information to fight against the 65 per cent increase in registration fee of small trucks. He stated that all farmers should support the Farm Bureau which in turn helps finance the Federation.

Chairmen Give Reports. Each chairman was called upon to give a brief report in regard to the state of the Farm Bureau in their respective communities. Practically all of the reports were very optimistic. In spite of the extremely low prices they felt that the membership would be maintained.

Organization Schedule. Mr. Kurdt was then called on to give a brief outline of the schedule of organization activities as approved by the board of directors. He stated that a series of 18 community committee meetings will be held during the month of October. After these meetings the three county project committees will meet to discuss county-wide programs. The membership renewal letter will be mailed on November 1 and the regional meetings for all communities and their wives will be held November 14, 15 and 16. The personal canvass for members will take place after these meetings. A final check-up will be made at the annual meeting held in Kingston on December 6.

After arranging for the committee meeting with the chairman and arranging for plans to distribute the rat bait later in the month, the meeting was adjourned.

Ancient Melody. The melody "Old Hundred" was known in the fifteenth century. In England it was used for Luther's version of the Hundredth psalm, "All people that on earth do dwell," and was called the "Hundredth Tune." The word old was added when the psalm was revised.

Old Scottish Saying. "There's a good time coming," is an expression used by Sir Walter Scott in "Rob Roy," and has, doubtless, for a long time, been a familiar saying in Scotland.

ENOUGH TURKISH
NOT TOO MUCH

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste.

You know that seasoning has to be used right... just enough of it, not too much.

Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco—the best kinds—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos.

Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better—why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.

News of Today In Kingston

Of course, you must hand in the license plates of your car if you want help from the Relief Bureau. That has been going on for some time. All sorts of people walk into that office at the city hall. To describe them would take a page or more and some of the stories they tell would either bring a tear or make you feel for the opposite.

A man came in recently and wanted help. An investigation was made and it was found that his son had a car. He was only a young boy and the father was told he would have to get the license plates and turn them in before he would get aid. He said he would like to take them for the car but he was going to take them for the car and he was going to take them for the car.

So what turned out of that? Never heard. The case slipped away from the fingers of the relief workers. It's really a tough job for these people to give up their automobiles. Their car was probably one of their greatest pleasures and now that some one else is sitting on the porch and counting the blades of grass, the car owner should not pay for their pleasures for the indulgent.

Occasionally they get a break by having a good reason to ask for their license. When somebody gets married, dies or a load of wood is necessary they can take a chance and ask for the license.

Walking along the streets these days you can pick up bits of conversation that would confirm your support of the Welfare Board's role.

For instance, an afternoon or two ago, a part of a confab drifted in the right direction, just so it could get into this column. The story went something like this: A lady, the one standing on the left, was hanging the ears with the one on her right, about her husband, who had been out of work for some time. She had gone to the mayor to see if he could place her man. Apparently the mayor's answer wasn't very favorable for she was boiling over about being a Democrat and voting for him and then having him do this to her.

The woman who listened played her part well. One could feel sure that her charm lay in her ability to listen. She didn't speak and when she attempted to, it was just too bad—the other one always took a quick breath and got under way again.

Well, it went on only for a few minutes, but she said more in that few minutes than Floyd Gibbons would have said in a half hour. She would have talked him under the table. Finally the convention of two broke up as a highly polished, large limousine drove up to the curb.

"I must be going now," said the woman who was spilling the yarn about her husband being out of a job.

"Whose car is this?" asked the other.

"Mine," she answered, climbing in and waving goodbye as she pulled away from the curb.

Canning Kinks at Two Meetings

The latest kinks in canning of meats will be shown the women of Kingston and Ulster county Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week. Miss Gladys Kimbrough, of Ball Brothers, Muncie, Indiana, whose work has been authorized by the State College of Home Economics, will be in charge of the meetings, the first of which is to be held at the Home service department of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, Kingston, beginning at 2 p. m. Thursday. The demonstration will be repeated Friday afternoon at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Modena, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The canning demonstrations are a part of the general economy program launched this year by the Ulster County Home Bureau. The canning of fruits and vegetables was demonstrated earlier in the year when over ninety women of the county were present to take advantage of the opportunity offered. It is hoped that a much larger number will be present for the demonstrations Thursday and Friday.

Wide Experience in Foods.
Miss Kimbrough's general food experience includes teaching home economics both in rural and city high schools, working several years as home demonstration agent; managing a school cafeteria and later a large commercial cafeteria. She has given demonstrations on the running board of a Ford, the pulpit of a country church and she has given the same work before the senior college classes.

Her demonstrations this week in Ulster county include the canning of several types of meat. They are open to anyone interested. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies of city and county.

Mayor Carey Wants Banks To Compromise City Debt

Asks Banks to Accept Principal with Interest to March 15, 1932, When Certificates of Indebtedness Were Due—Banks Want Interest Up to Time City Meets Its Obligation—Aldermen Object to Mayor's Interpretation.

Mayor Eugene B. Carey informed the common council Tuesday evening in a communication which was read at the regular monthly meeting, that he had written the five local banks holding certificates of indebtedness of the city which were due last March, but which his administration had refused to pay on the ground that the certificates were illegally issued. The mayor also enclosed a copy of the letter he had written to the five banks in which he suggested that the banks compromise with the city by accepting the principal of the certificates with interest to March 15, 1932, less one dollar. The mayor's communication was criticized on two points by members of the council.

Alderman Zucca objected to the phrase "unscrupulous politicians" which the mayor used in his communication, while Alderman Schenk took exception to the mayor's statement that Judge Staley had upheld the city's contention that the certificates were illegal. Alderman Schenk said he had read the opinion of the justice carefully and all that the judge had ruled on the question of legality or not of the certificates was that that was a question for a jury to pass upon.

Mayor Carey's letter.

The letter from the mayor reads as follows:

October 3, 1932
To The Honorable
The Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y.
Gentlemen:

Upon assuming office in January, and after making a very careful study of the budget for the current year, I found therein an item of $115,000, which represented Certificates of Indebtedness for that amount, said certificates being held by the First National Bank of Rondout, the Rondout Savings Bank, the Kingston Savings Bank, the State of New York National Bank and the Ulster County Savings Institution. After examining the request presented to the Common Council for the appropriation of this amount, I found that $100,000 was requested by the Board of Public Works in November, 1931, to pay for maintenance and repair work which had been done prior to the request for the appropriation, and for which no money had been raised in 1931. That alone led me to believe that the certificates might be illegal. Competent authority advised me to take that amount of money out of the budget and not raise money by taxation in this year's budget to pay the certificates. I disregarded the advice because at that time I did not wish to repudiate the obligations of the city, and because the money loaned belonged to the depositors and not to the banks. In order to properly have in the budget the item raising the aforesaid amount, I was advised to go to the State Legislature and ask the Legislature to legalize the certificates. I followed this advice and as you are aware, through no fault of mine, Governor Roosevelt could not sign the bill legalizing the certificates because the bill was not properly presented to the State Legislature. In order for said bill to have been properly before the Legislature, it was necessary that the Governor deliver a special message requesting the passage of such a law, and no such special message accompanied the bill.

The certificates were due on March 15, and at that time I advised representatives of the various banks, who met with me in my office, that I considered the certificates illegal, but was willing to pay provided the banks would give the city a proper release. The banks still contended that the certificates were legal and refused to give the releases asked for. Eventually suit was commenced and the banks had a proper hearing before Justice Staley of the Supreme Court in Albany. You are well aware of the decision of Justice Staley. Our contention was upheld.

friends of mine, who compose their directorate. True it is that I have saved the city over $4,000 by financing the Work Relief program from the General Fund, but upon studying the "Anticipated Receipts" for the year, I find they are all falling short. Such condition will cause deficits, expected by me, that will have to be raised in our 1933 budget. So you see I must jealously guard every credit created this year.

There is due your bank $..... as principal and $..... as interest. I trust you will accept the offer and close the matter as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,
EUGENE B. CAREY,
Mayor.

COAL DISCOUNT ANNOUNCEMENT

The approach of cold weather brings the matter of heating the home into great importance. The household budget will soon be called upon to provide for an additional burden that was not present during the warm Summer months. How to arrange for this will be a problem of many families.

WE STAND READY TO HELP YOU KEEP YOUR HOME WARM THIS WINTER AND SAVE YOU 80 CENTS A TON ON YOUR FULL REQUIREMENTS PURCHASED FROM THIS TIME UNTIL NEXT APRIL.

Instead of filling your bins—which would necessitate the payment of a considerable amount within 30 days in order to earn the 80 cents a ton discount—we stand ready to spread deliveries over the Winter to permit you to take your coal in such amounts as you can conveniently pay for before the discount period expires.

Of course, this puts an added burden on us, for we will have to make more trips to your home, but we are willing to assume this expense as our contribution to help you meet the abnormal conditions now prevailing.

In order to make this plan possible, we are not able to grant credit beyond thirty days in any case; therefore, at the time you place your order, tell your coal dealer to deliver such an amount as you can conveniently pay for in 30 days.

The one heating fuel that leaves NOTHING for you to remember

WEATHER is an outdoor matter alone, when your home is equipped for gas heating, since the same healthful temperature, decided in advance, is maintained in your home regardless of outside conditions, and entirely without attention on your part. You can discard your living room thermometer.

THERE ARE NO HAND CONTROLS TO ADJUST. Gas is the most easily controlled of all heating fuels, and a setting made on your living room thermostat controls room temperature without further attention by you.

THERE ARE NO FUELS TO ORDER. Leave your home for a week, or a month if you like, and your fuel supply cannot be exhausted because our great gas holders are your fuel bins.

THERE IS NO ADJUSTMENT NIGHT OR MORNING. Close off your sleeping rooms if you wish. The rest of the house stays at a constant, even temperature, and is as comfortable on a crisp frosty morning as on a sunny afternoon.

Yet with all this automatic weather control gas heating is surprisingly low in cost. You may even know the cost in advance under our guarantee purchase plan. And installation is so simple that your heating plant can quickly be returned to its present condition at any time if you wish.

A survey and estimate can be yours without cost. Consult your own plumber, or Kingston: "Blessed Event." Lee Tracy, who has been playing the role of a newspaper man in so many pictures, it is difficult to remember them, rises to the top of the film ladder in this talkie of a fast working, glib newspaper columnist who has such a nose for news that he can print the blessed events of society people long before they occur. His column lives scandal, breathes scandal, and he dishes the dirt because the public loves it. In the course of the picture, the working methods of night clubs, racketeers and gangsters all get their share of attention. It is red hot melodrama with a thrilling plot, and some fine acting on the part of the cast. Lee Tracy is perfect as the newspaper columnist, and the work of Mary Brian and Richard Powell is above the average. Fast moving and exciting entertainment.

Orpheum: "Daddy Long Legs." The familiar stage and screen play returns again in talkie form, with Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor heading the cast. It is well directed, superlatively acted entertainment, and its appeal will go to both young and old.

Broadway: "Vanishing Frontier." Johnny Mack Brown, Evelyn Knapp, Raymond Hutton, and Zasu Pitts are a few of the many players in this action filled drama of an American Robin Hood of the plains who smilingly relieves the rich of their money so that he can help the less fortunate. It's unbelievable entertainment, but full of thrills, laughs, and romance.

same time ago, where a brother shoots his sister's sweetheart in order to protect her honor, this talking picture offers Helen Twelvetrees and Robert Young in the featured roles. The dramatic part of the picture develops when the sister refuses to help her brother during his trial. Lewis Stone is the bright spot of the whole play.

Orpheum: "The Famous Ferguson Case." Jean Blondell, Vivienne Osborne, Tom Brown, and Leslie Fenton are the principal players in this rapid action drama of yellow journalism.

Broadway: "Show Boat Revue" on the stage, and "The Man from Yesterday" with Claudette Colbert and Clive Brook on the screen. A cast of 50 artists completes this stage presentation of Bobby Sanford. This attraction, an unusually entertaining musical comedy offering, features Jack White, Clown Prince of Broadway, The Twelve Rhythm Boys, and a chorus of 30 girls. Other featured players on the bill are Jean Alexandrea, Joey Cowan, Isabel Brown, Three Jacks, D'Andrea-Donaldson, Wintz-Roth, The Sanfordolls, and Lestra Lamonte. Comedy, dances and tuneful songs are offered in great variety as the show progresses. An elaborate revue that is sure fire in its entertainment value. "The Man from Yesterday." This talkie concerns a husband who goes to war, is reported dead, and who returns to find another man taking his place in his wife's affections. Clive Brook is effective as the soldier, Claudette Colbert is lovely in the role of his wife, and Charles Roper plays the part of the other man in her life.

Low Prices of 60 Years Ago Matched

There is shown a reproduction of an old bill head of Montgomery Ward & Co., dated 1872. This bill was issued when Ward's was a mere infant of three years of age.

It is interesting to compare these prices with the prices in effect during Ward Week, now in progress in Ward's 500 retail stores.

Ward Week is a semi-annual event and is the most important merchandise event on the Ward calendar. Hilston Tweedie, local manager for Ward's, has just received a communication from Chicago headquarters that interest in Ward Week, all over America, is the greatest since the boom days of 1929.

Red Check Charge.
 Franklin Trandale, 26 years old, who has been living about Highland for several weeks, was arrested in Highland by Sergeant Lockhart and Trooper Baker on information of Garlick authorities who charged that defendant had passed four checks which were of no value. The information on which defendant was held was that he had passed three checks of $25 each and one for $23. Trandale was turned over to Corporal Eines of K Troop and taken back to Warwick to answer to the charge.

N. Y. State Literacy Test for New Voters

At the general election in 1931 an amendment to article II, section 1, of the State Constitution was passed which provides:

"After January 1, 1932, no person shall become entitled to vote by attaining majority, by naturalization or otherwise, unless such person is also able, except for physical disability, to read and write English, and suitable laws shall be passed by the Legislature to enforce this provision."

The former test of reading an abstract from the constitution of this state given by the election inspectors, is abolished.

The general qualifications of voters are as follows:

1. Voter must have been a citizen for 30 days.
2. Voter must be 21 years of age or more.
3. Voter must have lived 5 years in the United States.
4. Voter must have lived 1 year in the state.
5. Voter must have lived 4 months in the county.
6. Voter must have lived 30 days in the election district.
7. Voter must possess evidence of literacy if a new voter.

The qualifications as to time must exist as of the day of election.

Evidence of Literacy

The evidence of literacy which all new voters must present to the election inspectors is one of the following:

1. A diploma from an eighth grade elementary school in which English has been the language of instruction, or of a higher school.
2. A certificate of literacy issued by the school authorities under the rules and regulations of the Regents.

Certificates of literacy can be issued without examination under the following conditions, viz: "To applicants who can present evidence of having completed the work prescribed for the sixth grade of the public day schools of the state, or its equivalent in night school." Such applicant should be particular to secure from the principal of his school a certificate stating the grade completed. Such procedure will save time both for the voter and the examiner. New voters who cannot furnish such certificates must take the New York State Regents Literacy Test.

Pursuant to the rules of the Board of Regents, the literacy test for the city of Kingston will be given at the High School and at School No. 5 on the following dates by Principal Frank L. Meagher:

High School, Broadway, October 13, 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.
 School No. 5, Wynkoop Place, October 14 and 15, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.
 High School, Broadway, October 14 and 15, 4 p. m. to 10 p. m.
 High School, Broadway, October 15, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.
 High School, Broadway, October 22, 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

New voters are urged to take this test at the earliest possible date.

Seeks To Abandon Agency Station

All billing would be through Esopus. All incoming freight would have to be prepaid and all outgoing freight shipped collect. Telegrams would be handled through Esopus.

No tickets would be sold at the station and could be purchased on the train at no extra cost. Commutation tickets for powder-mill workers would be sold by the Kingston agent once a month when he would be at the plant at Brewsters.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dorr, the witness said the application stated that the caretaker would be employed at a salary of $20 per month, but this did not fix the compensation. If it required more pay to get a good man they would pay more than $20 a month, although at two stations now operated by caretakers the $20 wage was in effect.

The caretaker would be at the station about eight hours a day and this time could be split up in two tricks of four hours each, one in the early day and one later in the afternoon. This caretaker would not be able to quote freight rates and Esopus would have to give rates by phone.

Mr. Dorr suggested that since Ulster Park was the center of a large fruit section with much business in the summer it might be possible to have a part time agent during the busy season when it was evident more than a caretaker was required.

It was shown that in May 429 shipments of express were made and in June 470 shipments. This was during asparagus season. Mr. Dorr said this evidently was too much work for a part time caretaker to handle at $20 a month. He suggested that during the busy season an agent from an adjoining station which was less busy might be placed at Ulster Park.

Better Facilities

Loading facilities at Ulster Park it was testified were better than at either Esopus or Port Jervis. This was shown by the fact that Esopus and Port Jervis growers came to Ulster Park.

Figures were offered by Mr. Dorr to show that the decrease in business at Ulster Park was less than the average percentage for the railroad which indicated that Ulster Park was more than an average station from a point of revenue.

Mr. Herring stated that he had sold apples for export and would ship at least two carload shipments between the middle and end of this month and if export prices were favorable he would ship more by carload lots. He said present prices were low. In 1921 they were also low and he shipped but one carload of apples. Others were sold f.o.b. Ulster Park and the buyer provided his own transportation. Mr. Herring said the railroad was suffering because the farmer suffered. There was a good crop of apples but no demand. He said when times became normal there would be an increased demand, better prices would result and the railroad would gain business as the farmer gained. An agent was an advantage to fruit growers. In selling a crop or a shipment to some distant buyer it was necessary to know rates. Now the agent was called and the rate determined and a deal made. This could not be done if there was no agent except by calling Esopus which is a toll charge call.

Agent Testifies
 Mr. Ingalsbee, route agent for the express company, testified to revenue from express. The revenue varied from over $1,100 at the peak to $29.50 at the low ebb. He said the caretaker would care for express and give express receipts and do all that the present agent does. This Mr. Dorr said did not seem possible with a $20 a month man. It was too big a job.

Opta Gaudet, agent at the station, was called. He said there had been about the same business this year as last so far as passenger and freight was concerned. Some of the express business was brought back last spring but freight receipts went down. Declining business has made business at the station fall off. From May to October business is heavy. He said trucks carted much of the fruit to Boston and New York. He said as soon as the express company cut its rate to meet the trucks the truckmen cut under the express company and business was lost.

At the conclusion of the testimony the matter was closed. Decision was reserved.

Missionary Conference

The Fall Missionary Conference for the Women's Missionary Auxiliaries, Church of Ulster, of the Reformed Church in America, will be held at the Flatbush Church on Friday, October 7, beginning at 10 a. m. A bus will leave the Wall street door of First Dutch Reformed Church promptly at 9:30. Those wishing to go may leave their names with Miss Wood. The speakers will be Miss Eliza Cobb of the Foreign Board, Miss Elsie Conkling, from India, Mrs. J. H. Rump of the Domestic Board and Miss Esther Ton, a teacher from Annapolis. Anyone is welcome to attend this meeting whether a member of the society or not.

Pastors Fined $25

Brano William Paulson of New York City, charged with assault third degree, alleged to have been committed on a Highland woman, was arrested by Sergeant Lockhart and Trooper Baker and given a hearing. At the conclusion of the trial a fine of $25 was imposed after defendant had been found guilty.

New Plan For Game Distribution

to any given section. This committee will be made responsible for proper distribution of game sent out by the state. This committee represented by all the clubs from the various sections of the county should give the county an equal and impartial distribution of game so that hunting throughout the county should improve generally.

The plan in regard to distribution of fish has worked out remarkably well in the past year.

Following Mr. Bump's presenting his idea on distribution of game he talked on several other matters of importance to sportsmen. He said that at present there are about 800 sportsmen's clubs in the state.

Before adjourning the meeting voted to send to Mr. Bump at the Conservation Department in Albany, a letter of thanks for his interesting talk.

Motion Pictures

Benjamin Winne of the firm of L. S. Winne & Company then presented several reels of motion pictures showing the receipt of fish at the local railroad station and the boys of the association transferring the fish to trucks for distribution in the various streams of the county. Several shots of the boys hard at work planting the fish in the streams gave a good idea of this most important work of stocking the streams. Another reel was shown taken at the pheasant farm where many of these birds were reared this year. In concluding his portion of the program Mr. Winne showed some excellent films taken on a fishing trip to Canada. These films not only showed the actual catching of fish but included several very interesting scenes of the north country including a Canadian chicken hunt and a most unusual shot of a large eagle as it soared about in the sky. This particular shot was made with a telephoto lens from a considerable distance and was an excellent piece of work on the part of the photographer.

Following the showing of the pictures a lunch was served and the meeting then adjourned.

Cafeteria Supper

The Ladies of St. John's Church will hold one of their popular cafeteria suppers at the parish house in the rear of the church on Albany avenue on Thursday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock. The ladies will serve creamed chicken on biscuit, roast pork, mashed potatoes with brown gravy, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, salads of various kinds, homemade cake and pie, bread and butter and tea and coffee.

On Friday evening, September 20, the Grange held the customary "Booster" meeting in the basement of the Rochester Reformed Church. Explanation Of Changes In 1932 Football Rules

By WILLIAM S. LANGFORD
Secretary, National Football Rules
Committee

New York, Oct. 5 (AP).—Players and the football public generally always have expected the man carrying the ball to fight for every inch of ground he possibly can gain until the ball becomes dead.

Under the former rule when any part of the player in possession of the ball, except his hands or feet, touch the ground, while he was in the grasp of an opponent, the ball became dead automatically and play stopped.

This year's rule reads as follows: "The ball is dead and shall be so declared by the referee: (a) When a player having the ball goes out of bounds, cries 'down,' or is so held that his forward progress is stopped, or (except the holder of the ball in a place kick) when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground.

"Piling Up" Eliminated
The change made was in the words "while in the grasp of an opponent," and its purpose was to do away with the dangers that came from "crawling" and "piling up."

This year if the man with the ball stumbles so that his knee touches the ground, or if he is bowled over by an opponent, or if he falls on a loose ball, it is instantly dead.
Although it is the referee's duty to announce that the ball is dead by blowing his whistle, any "crawling" which occurs, even before the whistle is blown, is to be penalized by the loss of 5 yards. "Crawling" is defined as "an attempt by the player in possession of the ball to advance the ball after he has been downed; viz., when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground."

Penalty For Crawling
There doubtless will be cases of "crawling," especially in the early games, and this will invite "piling-up" by opponents. In such event a foul will be committed by each team and under the rules the play will be played over, unless the captain of the team in possession of the ball declines the penalty for "piling on" which he may wish to do if the gain made by his team, previous to the "crawling," is a large one.

Canzoneri Meets Petrolle Tonight

Tony Canzoneri of Marlborough, Ulster county, and New York city, will meet Frankie Petrolle, brother of the famous Fargo Express, Billy Petrolle, at Ebbets Field tonight. Ray Miller was originally scheduled to meet Tony, but a boil on the tip of his nose caused him to withdraw from the match. Petrolle agreed only yesterday to battle Canzoneri. He signed on the dotted line after conferring with his brother, Billy, who meets Tony for the lightweight title at Madison Square Garden on November 4. The crown will not be at stake tonight, Petrolle being over the weight limit.

In the preliminary to the feature, Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, will swap punches with Jack Redding, promising negro heavyweight.

PUNTS and PASSES

(By The Associated Press)
Worcester, Mass.—Working on the theory that a touchdown counts six points, no matter how it is scored, Capt. John McEwan, Holy Cross coach, is not neglecting the "breaks" while he develops scoring plays. He gave his team a long session in breaking through to block punts yesterday.

Pittsburgh.—The "experts" have been calling Pitt one of the East's most powerful teams but the Panthers just can't have enough for Coach Jock Sutherland. His latest prospect for adding punch to the attack is Nate Weinstock, a 196-pound fullback who ripped up West Virginia's line last Saturday.

New York.—Columbia's gridiron difficulties seem to center around the town of Lawrence, Mass. Captain Steve Grenda, who hails from Lawrence, is just getting ready to go into action after a leg injury that has kept him out since the season started and now Halfback Joe Linehan of Lawrence is out because of a finger injury that makes it impossible for him to hold the ball.

Hanover, N. H.—If Dartmouth has the interference to shake a runner loose against serious competition the Indians ought to get some real thrills out of Jack Hill. The sophomore halfback got away three times in yesterday's scrimmage with the freshmen and ran 80, 75 and 42 yards for touchdowns.

West Point, N. Y.—Army's first serious objective for this season is the Pittsburgh game, October 13, but the Cadets believe they will have to make some long steps to take Carlisle in their stride. Scouts have reported the Carlisle have a strong defense and Army immediately settled down to polishing its attack.

Princeton, N. J.—Although he used two complete backfields against Amherst last week, Fritz Crisler, Princeton coach, apparently is not committed to that plan for the season. For this week's practice he has formed one first string quartet, consisting of Mil Draudt, Jack James, Kate Kadlic and Stan Fumell.

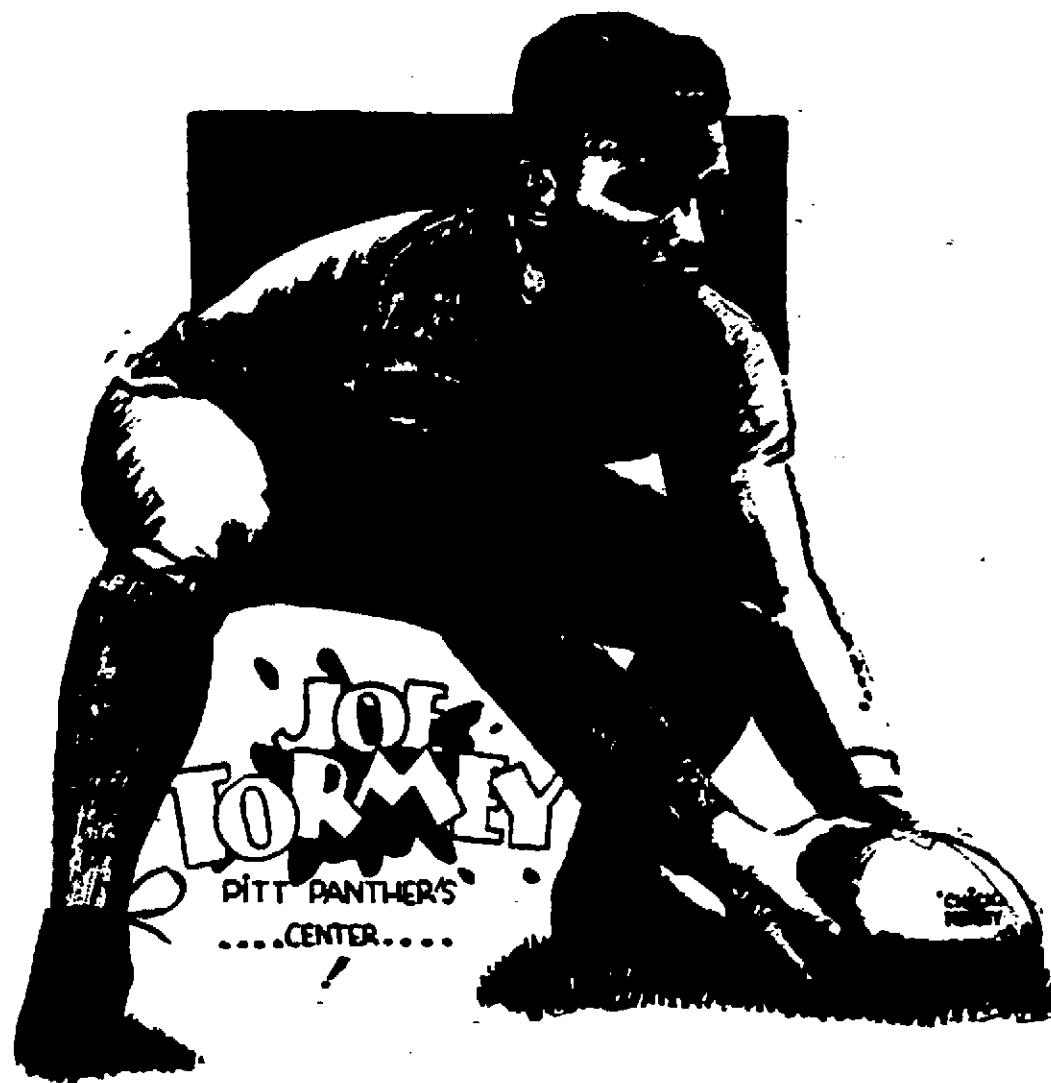

New Haven, Conn.—The injury to Bob Lassiter has made a real problem for Mal Stevens, Yale coach. He not only has to provide a first string substitute but one or two more for replacements. So far Marting, Dugan, King and Gilligan have been tried but none has won the regular job yet.

New York.—A lot of football coaches may wish they could have Major Frank Cavanaugh's predicament inflicted upon them. The "iron major" has two teams at Fordham and they both are so good he's having a hard time trying to decide which will be his first eleven.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Detroit.—Kid Chocolate, Cuba, outpointed Johnny Farr, Cleveland, (10); George Riley, Detroit, outpointed Wilbur Chevalier, Milwaukee, (6).

Berlin.—Vincas Hower, Germany, stopped Paul Bianchi, Argentina, (4).

Army Threatens Pitt's Success

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5 (Special).—When Jock Sutherland's Golden Panthers of the University of Pittsburgh invade West Point a week from Saturday for their game with Ralph Sasse's Soldiers, their record of not having lost a game to an Eastern eleven since October 1928 will be endangered.

Captain Paul Reider and his mates have never played on a team that lost to an Eastern foe, and they do not intend to start this year. Last year the Army was unable to do much with the Pitt defense, and its own defense was impotent against the aerial game of the Panthers, and the latter see no reason at all why things should change this next weekend.

In 1928 Pitt lost two games to Eastern foes, West Virginia winning 9-6, and Carnegie Tech 6-0. Since then, however, West Virginia has fallen three times by scores of 32-7, 16-0, 34-0; Penn State four times, 26-0, 20-0, 19-12, and 41-6; Carnegie Tech three times by 34-13, 7-6, and 14-6 scores; Washington and Jefferson twice, 25-0 and 21-0; and Syracuse and Army once each.

Pitt will bring along one of the strongest centers in the East in Joe Tormey, rugged Erie veteran. He has succeeded to the job left vacant by All-American Ralph Daugherty.

Johnston Favors Leonard to Win

Benny Leonard, the 37-year-old comebacker, who retired seven years ago as the undefeated lightweight champion of the world, is the choice of Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, over the ferocious little Irishman, Jimmy McLarnin, in the battle to be fought at the Garden Friday night.

Second City League Series Game Saturday

At the City Baseball League meeting in the city hall Tuesday evening, it was decided to have the Knights of Columbus and Forts meet in the second game of the series for the championship of the circuit at the Athletic Field this Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The Knights won the first game 2-1 and were to have met the Butchers last Saturday, but Manager Herbie Mills, of the latter nine, could not get his team together for the engagement.

Likely opponents on the pitching mound will be Paul Joyce for the Knights and Jimmy "Baby" Veolker for Forts. In the event that Joyce cannot be on hand for the contest, which is probable, Art Wood, eastern slinger for the Canns team, will do the tossing.

It was also decided at last night's meeting to hold the annual City League banquet following the play-off for the pennant.

Chocolate Takes Decision from Farr

Kid Chocolate, Sashy Cuban boxer, says an Associated Press report, won an easy decision over Johnny Farr of Cleveland in a 10-round bout at Detroit Tuesday night. Chocolate, who won nine of the 10 rounds, weighed 129, Farr 132.

One of Cadets' Mainstays

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 5.—"Milt" Summerfelt, captain and right guard of the Army football team, has already won two major A's on the West Point gridiron. A strong, rugged player, he is equally effective in the defense as well as offense. Summerfelt's position was seldom attacked last season, and his playing in the Carlisle and Pittsburgh games is certain to be one of the features of the Cadet team. He has also shown great ability in pass defense, particularly in interrupting the short, low, deadly type over the center of the line.

In addition to his gridiron athletic activities in the fall, Summerfelt plays lacrosse in the spring and has two other major A's in that sport to his credit. Summerfelt is also a captain in the Corps of Cadets, where he commands Company M. In winning his appointment to that high rank, the records of 244 classmates in every phase of cadet life were considered.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The question came up recently as to just how well some of the old-time golfers, Walter J. Travis for example, would fare against the top players of today.

The "Old Man" would be at a tremendous disadvantage on the side of length, against some of the maulers of present-day golf balls, but in short game probably would make up for a lot of ground lost through his fairways.

The answer would be hard to find, however, remarked Archie McDowell, of New York, for years a prominent tournament player and a contemporary of Travis. "The Old Man" adapted his game to conditions much different than those existing today.

He courses, the equipment and the ball have all changed a great deal.

"On the whole, too, the game has improved. You noticed how well Dan Egan did in this year's amateur championship, qualifying easily 5 years after he last held the national title. He told me his own game was much better, that he was hitting a longer ball than he did in his younger days. The clubs in use would offer a wide range of shots. There is a club for every shot."

"Bill, we must credit Travis and his great successor, Jerome D. Travis, for effecting the greatest improvement in putting in perhaps the game's entire history. They were the first to establish the method of stroking putts."

They were Gene Sarazen's out-going line in 32 on his last round in the National open at Fresh Meadow and Francis Ouimet's first nine in an 18 on against George Vogt in the first round of national amateur championship match play.

Both were superlative performances, under pressure, with the hot kind of rivalry to contend with. Sarazen's card with par:

Par. out—444 354 442—25
Sarazen, out—453 253 442—32

And here's how Ouimet blasted out of the picture:

Par. out—444 345 442—25
Ouimet, out—343 244 343—39

Sarazen finished his full round in 14, four shots under par.

Ouimet, for 13 holes, was six under par, with a total of 44 holes. He topped par on the last five holes at Five Farms for a 64, which would have set an all-time scoring record for any American championship, open or amateur.

Sunday School League Meeting

The representatives of the teams entering the Senior Sunday School League this year are asked to meet at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock. Plans will be drawn up for the coming season and it is important that every representative be present.

Those who are expected to represent the different church teams are as follows: Chet Fox for Redeemer, Paul Flowers for the Congregational, Winfield Van Bramer for the Presbyterian, Harry Lebert for the Methodist, Bernard Joy for the Baptist, Charles H. Stater for the Episcopal, Dave Harris for the United Methodist, and Bill Newkirk for the St. James, and Watson Bailey for Trinity.

The officers of the organization are as follows: President, Edw. Flowers; secretary and treasurer, Chet Fox; managing director, Carl N. Foster.

Yellow Jackets Practice Tonight

The Yellow Jackets, who meet the Schuylers of Albany at the Fair Grounds next Sunday afternoon, will practice at the 156th Field Artillery drill ground, North Manor avenue, tonight, starting at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the grid squad are asked to be at the session with their full equipment.

The practice will be the first following the "Waaps" victory over the West Point Artillery last week, 13-0, and a number of new plays will be worked out in preparation for the second game of the season for the men of Lou Kantrowitz against the Schuylers. The updaters have a strong lineup, advance notices say, comprised of old knickerbocker, Cardinal, Albany Academy and high school players.

To Play Sing Sing. Manager, Kantrowitz has announced that the Yellow Jackets will definitely go to Sing Sing for a game with the prison team, now engaged in its second season, Sunday afternoon, October 23. This is the first away-from-home game booked by the Kingston mentor, who hopes that his men will show up well against the boys who this year are being coached by Johnny Law, former Notre Dame star.

Last Sunday the prisoners started their 1932 season with a 19-6 victory over the Clover Athletic Club of the Bronx. Two of the Sing Sing touchdowns were scored by "Alabama" Pitts, flashy halfback.

Six Foot Sea Serpent Caught in Crab Pot

Maroon Has Long Signal Drill Tuesday

The Maroon squad of Kingston High went through its first workout of the week in its tune up for Saturday High here Saturday afternoon. Coach Kias put the boys through a long signal drill after giving them a gallop over on the fundamentals. This afternoon, if it is raining when the practice period should be called, Coach Kias will lecture to the boys in one of the class rooms.

On the other hand, if the boys do go out on the Athletic Field they will scrimmage against the second team. This will probably be their only scrimmage of the week. It is possible that Kias might stage another little game Thursday evening, but it isn't likely because injuries would mean a black eye for Saturday's engagement.

When asked about the boys, Kias said they were all in good shape and eligible. He talked rather confidently as though he expected a good performance from the squad in its first home game and he should get a good performance for the boys have been drilled hard and watched carefully by Kias and his assistants, Bailey, Fuller and Miller.

The field is in good shape. The Yellow Jackets played on the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon and the ground was all that could be desired. Good turf is essential for a good football game, so if the weather clears up and the ground dries out the field should be in good shape for the combat.

Kias further announced that he has already secured the officials for the game. Wilson from Cornwall will referee. Banks from Kingston will umpire and Cahill from Saugerties will be head linesman.

A report has not been given on the sale of tickets for the game. However, it is expected that a large crowd will be on hand to see the Maroon struggle in its first appearance at home against a good Schenectady team.

RESIDENTS FLEE AS FOREST FIRES MENACE TOWN

Portland, Ore., Oct. 5 (AP)—Forest fires roared through western Oregon and southwestern Washington today, threatening to destroy three small towns. Flames already had left one Oregon town in ashes and destroyed half a dozen buildings in another.

The deserted mill town of Wendling in Lane County, central western Oregon, still stood today as 2,500 men fought flames that threatened it. Residents had fled.

Amboy, a little town in southwestern Washington about 40 miles north of Portland, was virtually ringed by flames that had swept over thousands of acres of timber and brush land and destroyed several farm homes. Fear was felt for the safety of six families which determined to fight the mile-wide path of fire to save their homes.

Across the Columbia river in Washington county, Oregon, the mill town of Cochrane was in ashes. Its 200 residents fled shortly before their homes were burned yesterday. In the same county 15 houses in the Bales Creek country were destroyed by a 35,000 acre fire.

Plans Progress for Boy Scout Drive

The Boy Scouts of the Ulster-Greene Council will save the Council approximately $200 during the annual finance campaign which is scheduled to begin Monday, October 17. The boys will do their "good turn" to the Council by delivering the folders sent to prospective contributors giving an outline of work done during the year and asking for support for the coming year. With the 50 per cent increase in postage the savings on the large amount of mail sent out at this time amounts to a goodly sum.

The organization for the finance campaign, with the exception of the Rondout Valley Area, is set up and ready for business. Howard B. Humiston, who was chairman for the Rondout Valley Area last year, has consented to again act this year, but what with his long illness and the necessity of paying some attention to his campaign for re-election as coroner, in addition to catching up with business affairs, he has not yet found time to fully complete the organization of his area.

The real live-wire section, according to reports, is Saugerties. It seems that the supporters of Scouting there are "rarin' to go," and so strong is the enthusiasm that Chairman Grant D. Morse and his committee are going to start their campaign Friday night of this week.

Arthur J. Burns is general chairman of the council territory and the eight sections into which it has been divided have been organized as follows:

Wallkill Valley. Area chairman, V. T. Pine. Local chairmen—Wallkill, Charles Runk, Jr.; Gardiner, Lloyd McKinstry; New Paltz, V. T. Pine.

Mid-Hudson. Area chairman, W. J. Margat. Local chairmen—Marlborough, P. J. Gallagher; Milton, Carl Hergert; Highland, John F. Wadlin; Clintondale, Francis E. Gaffner.

This debate will be analyzed and correct debate procedure will be discussed by C. Bishop Johnson, head of the Oral English department, Mt. Vernon High School.

Roosevelt And Smith Shake Hands

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt and his rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, former Governor Alfred E. Smith, met for the first time last night here at the Chicago National Convention, last July when they appeared at the state convention which nominated for governor their mutual friend, Herbert H. Lehman, the lieutenant governor.

Roosevelt was on the platform to welcome Lehman when Smith was recognized to place the lieutenant governor in nomination.

With the flashlights of the movie cameramen sweeping the stage in the Town Hall armory and a crowd of 10,000 looking on the long awaited meeting of "Frank" and "Al" took place.

Smith shaking hands with persons on the platform approached Roosevelt standing just behind the massed microphones on the speakers stand.

The dialogue, lost in the tumult of the convention hall, was reported by Guernsey T. Cross, Mr. Roosevelt's secretary, who stood beside him.

Cross said that Mr. Roosevelt when he shook hands with his predecessor remarked, "Al, this comes from the heart."

Smith's reply, quoting Cross, was, "That goes for me too."

Later Smith refrained from repeating what was said during the meeting of the two men whose political lives, before the Chicago convention, were so closely linked.

Only once did Smith refer to Roosevelt by name. That was when, after reviewing his own efforts as governor in behalf of social legislation, he remarked:

"And when I left here on January 1, 1929, I left with a feeling of satisfaction because we handed that program to Roosevelt and Lehman."

A few minutes later he expressed confidence that the Democratic national ticket headed by Mr. Roosevelt would be successful.

LOCAL COMMITTEE TO AID LADY GRENFELL

The sale of articles made by the people of Labrador—hooked rugs, carved ivories and hand woven articles—which will be held by Lady Grenfell at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Monday afternoon next, beginning at 3 o'clock, has gained the interest of many local women. Mrs. Grenfell will be assisted by the following committee: Mrs. Elsie Hasbrouck, chairman; Mrs. Lucie Rowe, Mrs. Williams Carter, Mrs. Emily C. Chadbourne, Mrs. Charles H. Step the Leaks

Water leaking from a faucet is a stream the size of a common pipe wastes about 150 gallons a day, engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture found. Even a leak of only one drop a second makes about four gallons a day. This means a lot of water is often wasted in hot weather when the well or spring on the farm may be low.

Presbyterian Church To Install Minister

The Rev. Dr. Goodrich Gates is to be installed in the Presbyterian Church of North River, N. Y., on October 12.

The Rev. Dr. Goodrich Gates was unanimously voted into the membership of the North River Presbyterian Church at its annual meeting in September. It was then decided that he will be installed by the Presbytery as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street on the evening of October 13. Invitations are being issued by the elders of the church to the pastors and members of all other churches in Kingston to attend the ceremonies of induction. Members of Presbytery in charge of the installation are the Rev. Charles Marshall Moore, newly elected moderator of Presbytery; the Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Steele, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of America, and the Rev. James N. Armstrong, Jr., pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

Succeeds Dr. Cady
The Rev. Mr. Moore was moderator of the Board of Elders in the local church following the resignation of Dr. Putnam Cady last December 1. Dr. Steele is also known here, having taken part in the installation of the Rev. Mr. Armstrong in the Rondout church. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Theodore Fiske Savage, executive secretary of New York. Dr. Gates was in close contact with him while serving the Presbyterian Church of the Puritans in New York city, where he was minister-in-charge for nearly five years. From that position he was called to the local church and accepted, beginning work in the parish on Sunday, May 15.

Others who are invited to take part in the service are the Rev. Dr. T. P. Gates, father of the pastor-elect, minister of the West Windsor Community Church; the Rev. Charles T. Griswold of Hobart, Otsego Presbytery, for many years a close friend of Dr. Gates, and the Rev. Dr. Putnam Cady, former pastor of the local church. Mr. Mosher, as moderator of Presbytery, will preside, read the constitutional questions to the pastor-elect and the congregation, and induct into office. Dr. Steele will give the charge to the people and Mr. Armstrong the prayer. Others named will be in charge of the service of worship to precede the ceremonies of induction. Dr. Gates will pronounce the benediction.

The formalities in the meeting of Presbytery today included the customary examination in theology, sacraments and Presbyterian polity. Following this the pastor-elect was enrolled in Presbytery and the call to the Kingston church placed in his hands.

To Be Twelfth Minister.
Dr. Gates will be the twelfth minister who has served the Elmendorf street church since it was incorporated in 1852. Ten of these have been pastors and two stated supplies. The last serving for periods of only one year. The new incumbent of the office received his education in Columbia University and studied in Union Theological Seminary and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. For several years he was a newspaper reporter and editor, working on metropolitan papers including the Herald-Tribune. From the position of editorial writer of the Yonkers Freeman he was called to the pulpit of the New York church. His first pastorate was in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Chapel of Westfield, N. Y., where he was succeeded by his son.

Besides the ministers, other Kingston people who attended the meeting of Presbytery were Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen of the First Dutch Church, commissioner to prosecute the call, and Irving W. Scott, ruling elder of the Rondout Church. Mr. Scott was elected trustee of Presbytery for the ensuing year. In the memorial service conducted by the Rev. Charles K. Imbrie of Newburgh, the late Frank Powley, an elder in the Rondout Church, was eulogized.

Black Holds Its Own Even Against Glamorous Color

New York.—If you have been wondering how you could ever get along without that flattering white organdie bow, you and everyone else has been wearing, you will be glad to know that you really won't miss it—just change from organdie to galyak, or if white fur sounds too pretentious, to white velvet or ribbed silk. That touch of white which was such a help when we were sunburned is carrying us over the trying period when we wish we weren't.

In spite of the glamorous colors merchants have procured for us, and which we all admire, the great majority are playing safe and wearing black with stunning what-nots in white—about the face mostly, where it is really best of all.

The black sheep has been shorn again and again, for did you ever see so many black woolen dresses, or for that matter so many stunning looking black coats? Generally speaking, woolen dress goods is rough and coat woollens are smooth as broadcloth, for most of them are broadcloth.

One might have suspected that fashion, once having decided to make us ladylike, would have commanded broadcloth to help her produce the effect. There are broadcloth hags. Broadcloth evening dresses, evening coats and evening ensembles and broadcloth afternoon dresses. If it's crepe you like—have them rough, and if it's sheer, have them a bit on the heavy side—and dull.

The use of the reverse side of the material may be listed as an economy measure since it saves trimming. Buy two-faced materials—but go on from there—without forcing me into writing the obvious.

The model sketched has a score of interesting details. It has one of those waistlines that go both ways at once and still stay in the middle. It's easy enough to see that it may be worn without the belt, and it's also quite apparent that it may have that touch of metal which seems to be just the last word in costume trimmings. Copper and steel are both a rising market when it comes to costume accessories.

Kingston Hospital
Auxiliary Report

Annual report of the secretary of Kingston Hospital Auxiliary:

The annual meeting of the Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital was held on September 27, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Frederick Snyder; first vice president, Mrs. Thomas J. Hickey; second vice president, Mrs. George A. Rose; secretary, Mrs. Chester B. Van Gaasbeek; treasurer, Mrs. H. A. Rose.

In reviewing the past year of our work for the Kingston Hospital we find no great monuments to mark our progress. We have had no brilliant fund, or for the increase of membership. We have simply maintained a steady upward movement, doing the work which is ours, and supplying our institution with the increased number of things which its rapid growth demands.

We have during the past year given one afternoon card party, and one food sale. These two affairs with the annual dues of the members, and a few unsolicited cash gifts have been our only income.

With this limited income we have purchased and given to the hospital material for curtains and beautiful rugs and chairs for the ends of the corridors on the second and third floors. We have done most of the buying of the necessary supplies which the Board of Managers have paid for.

The Auxiliary has been responsible for the sewing done for the hospital and at this time we wish to express our thanks to the various individuals and organizations which have helped in this way.

At Thanksgiving and at Christmas time money was donated by the Auxiliary to bring holiday cheer to the ward patients. At Thanksgiving a rose was placed on each tray and at Christmas time appropriate decorations were made throughout the hospital.

The Good Cheer committee has been faithful to the ward patients by bringing in flowers, books, and magazines. This work is greatly appreciated by the sick ones without friends in the city.

The Auxiliary this year has suffered a great loss in the death of Mrs. George Chandler, who had served the organization many years as president, and later as secretary, and was always an enthusiastic and faithful worker for the hospital. Her attendance at the meetings was regular and her eagerness to aid every sort of work was an inspiration to us all. The Auxiliary adopted resolutions at her death but these in no way express the personal loss felt by each member who knew her as she was.

The coming year we hope for a larger membership and more active workers. It is hoped that hundreds of Kingston women will see the importance of standing by such an institution as we represent and that these women will show their loyalty to their city and interest in one of its greatest institutions by becoming members of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary.

Life of Ocean Denizens

Not Without Excitement

Not every creature that lives in the ocean is a fish. Many always think of a whale as a fish, but a whale is a mammal, warm-blooded and an air breather. He is no more a fish than the family dog is a fish. Most whales are shaped like fish and swim the seas, but this does not make them fish any more than the mouse that has wings is a bird—the bat is a mammal.

We think of the cold, slimy swimmers in river, pond, lake, and ocean as living a dull life. It is hard to imagine social relations or many of the pleasures of the warm-blooded animals on land being shared by the inhabitants of the cold, wet, and dark seas. And yet there is now scientific evidence that in the world of fish things are not so very different as had been supposed.

In the fish world there are gluttons, fighters and loafers. In sharks' stomachs have been found lobsters, turtle bones, chicken's feathers, wheat, corn, and coffee grounds, string beans, corn-cobs, the horns of a sheep, bones of a cow, and even a wooden bucket and tin cans. The shark is a voracious eater, and he never has indigestion, because he can push his stomach out through his mouth and empty out anything which might trouble him to digest.

ODD OZARK NAMES
PUZZLE VISITORS

Reason for Quizzical Titles Is Often Obscure.

Hollister, Mo.—The Ozark country, or at least that part of it known as the White River district, is a country of caves, coon dogs and hospitable folk, not to mention original and odd-sounding names. Visitors seldom fail to wonder at such names as Gobbler's Knob, High Lonesome, Loner's Glory, Glad Joe, Virgin's Bluff, Naked Joe, Pecosum Trot and others no less characteristic.

Take Ava, for instance, the county seat of Douglas county. When, in 1871, James Halsey was confronted with the important task of naming a town he went to his Bible for guidance and found in II Kings 17:24, his inspiration; the town was duly named Ava, which in Hebrew means "over-flowing."

Not all inspiration came from books. One of the highest knobs in Stone county bears the somewhat modern name of Naked Joe. Old settlers relate the story of a duel fought on this peak before the Civil war by two naked men, the victor of which was named Joe. Wild turkeys led to the naming of Gobbler's Knob.

Taney county was named after Roger B. Taney, a chief justice of the Supreme Court of the United States for 20 years, whose decision in the famous Dred Scott case had such an important reaction in shaping events that led to the Civil war and whose wife was a sister of Francis Scott Key.

Douglas county was named after Stephen A. Douglas, whose life also figured so prominently in pre-Civil war days. John Forsyth of Georgia, secretary of state of the United States, 1834-1841, lent his name to the county seat of Taney county.

Ozarkians took their politics seriously enough in those times to name their county seats and landmarks after prominent public figures.

Gobbler's Knob is one of the smaller knobs four miles from Hollister in Taney county.

There was humor in the name of Loner's Glory for a second building in Taney county.

In many instances places were named with a descriptive significance. From Pecosum Trot, a valley in Taney county where these animals abounded, to High Lonesome, a ridge on a divide between Beaver creek and Swan creek in Douglas county that was particularly high and lonesome; Virgin's Bluff in Stone county, with its legend of disillusioned Indian maiden's love, each has its own particular story.

Tented Cities Crowd

Banks of Mississippi

Memphis.—Up and down the Mississippi tented cities are springing up from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans as levee camps are erected from which the big offensive is to be waged against the mighty river the next 12 months.

It is part of the big Mississippi river improvement program that was provided for in the army appropriation bill of $31,500,000, of which approximately one-third will be spent in the Memphis engineering district.

Already Maj. Breton B. Somervell, district engineer, has completed the awarding of contracts for the construction of levees and sea walls in the district totaling $5,000,000.

Hardly had the contracts been signed before equipment was moved onto the river banks and tented cities, housing the workmen and their families, began to spring up.

Hundreds of workers who stormed the engineer depot here, however, for work were informed that employment would be given only through the city employment bureau working in co-operation with the veterans' bureau.

Use Plastic Surgery

to Revamp Felons' Faces

Philadelphia.—Plastic surgery is used now at the Eastern penitentiary to "make over" faces of some of the inmates on the theory a nose is just as important to a convict's welfare as a good job—once he is out of prison.

It was started when Dr. Michael M. Wolfe, a friend of Warden Herbert ("Hard-Boiled") Smith, declared prisoners were taught trades and occupations for future life, but that those with battered faces, twisted noses or disfiguring scars were handicapped from the start.

Doctor Wolfe for the last year attempted the transformation of some of the toughest faces in the rogues' gallery gratis.

"Camera eyed" detectives, who in the past have made it their business to remember convicts, in the future may be fooled by the made-over faces.

"Buff," an English shepherd, is mascot of No. 22 Engine company, while "Jack Rags" plays around the garbage transfer station.

The Campaign Puzzle

Study Past State-by-State Votes in Making Your Forecast

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth of a series of articles showing how states voted in the 1928 presidential election and pointing out developments since.

Massachusetts' vote for President 1928:

Smith—792,753.

Hoover—775,566.

Massachusetts' vote for Alfred E. Smith in 1928 was its first vote for a Democratic candidate since 1912, and ran counter to a Republicanism which had been almost unquestioned until recent years.

Smith and his views on prohibition appealed to large elements in the state, and were credited with an important part in the result.

Democrats won their second United States senatorship in 1930 when Marcus A. Coolidge defeated William M. Butler, former national Republican committeeman by a vote of 651,939 to 539,226. In the same year Joseph B. Ely (D.) who had the campaign support of Alfred E. Smith, defeated Frank G. Allen (R.) for governor, 606,902 to 590,238.

Massachusetts' delegation to the Democratic national convention this year voted solidly for Smith to the end. Republican leaders have professed a belief that many Democratic votes, disaffected by the outcome, may swing to Hoover.

Prohibition has been a major issue in the current campaign. Economic recovery also has been widely debated.

Massachusetts has 17 electoral votes this year, instead of its former 18.

Idaho's vote for President in 1928:

Hoover—97,322.

Smith—52,926.

Idaho has cast its electoral votes for the Republican presidential candidate five times in the last 16 elections. Twice its votes went to Bryan and twice to Wilson. In 1892 its votes went to the People's party's candidate.

In the state elections of 1930, C. Ben Ross (D.) was elected over John McCurry (R.) by a vote of 73,856 to 58,002. He was the state's first Democratic governor in a decade, but the significance of the result was clouded by the fact that McCurry's commission in the party convention caused wide dissent, friends of Byron Defenbach claiming he was the party's real choice.

In the same year Idaho re-elected Senator William E. Borah (R.) by a vote of 54,938 to 35,162 for Joseph M. Tyler (D.), and re-elected its two Republican representatives by majorities of 16,000 and 19,000 respectively.

Discussion of farm relief and banking programs of the two candidates apparently has overshadowed the prohibition issue in the current campaign. Idaho has usually been considered strongly dry and Senator Borah announced early in the current campaign his refusal to support the Republican prohibition plank.

Idaho has four electoral votes.

Wisconsin's vote for President in 1928:

Hoover—544,205.

Smith—450,253.

Wisconsin generally is regarded as a "normally" Republican state, but since the days of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette Republicanism within the state has been divided between "progressive" or "LaFollette" Republicans and the "conservatives."

The state has not had a Democratic governor since 1881. In recent years Wisconsin has failed but twice to give its vote to Republican presidential candidates, voting for Woodrow Wilson in 1912 and for Senator LaFollette in 1924.

The LaFollette faction has been consistently at odds with Republican national administrations, and in 1928 gave its endorsement to Alfred E. Smith. Prohibition was a leading issue in the campaign of that year, the progressives favoring repeal.

Forecasts of Wisconsin's vote in the coming national election were complicated by the recent primaries, in which former Governor Walter J. Kohler, conservative, defeated Governor Philip F. LaFollette for re-nomination by a heavy majority.

Senator John J. Blaine, running on the LaFollette ticket, was defeated by John B. Crapple, conservative editor.

Wisconsin has 12 electoral votes this year, instead of its former 13.

Marcus Cohen Fined.

Marcus Cohen of 1161 Shakespeare avenue, New York city, 31 years old, found it did not pay to attempt to defraud a hotel keeper in the town of Shandaken.
